Cut along this line _____

1. First, put a crease along the folding line using the ruler and the stencil pen or something with a sharp point. Then cut along the cutting line.

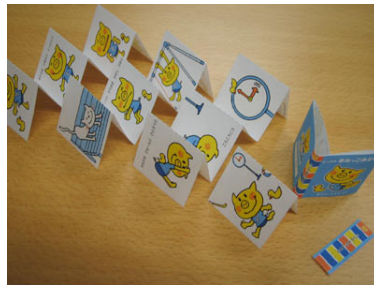

You should have 3 long strips, 1 short strip, the cover sheet and a spine cover.

2. Fold the main story pages along the folding line.

3. Folding the cover sheet is different. Follow the folding lines as shown here.

Now the main story, the cover sheet, and the spine cover is ready for binding.

4. Put the main story pages in order and sandwich with the cover sheet.

5. Bind by stapling as close to the spine as possible

7. If you prefer to hide the staples, glue the spine cover on top of the staple.
